Some curiosity has been expressed as to the exact locale of the new play, "Cape Cod - Folks" - which Messrs. Liebler & Co. are to present for the first time at the Boston Theatre, Aug. 27. For the first time it is now known that the scenes of the piece are to be laid at Hyannis on the Cape, and that a number of the prominent local characters of the place are to be made features in the play. The magnificent wreck scene and storm at sea which is to be the big feature of the production is located just off the breakwater near the Bishop and Clark light off Hyannis harbor, a spot known to everyone who has sailed about the Cape.

If you have not purchased your spring suit yet, you certainly ought to see our goods and prices. Our 50 inch pamaoms in all colors at 85 cent per yard, positively cannot be beaten. Farr's Remnant store, 88 Appleton street, Lawrence.

THE CRICKET LEAGUE RACE WELL ADVANCED.

The cricket season is well advanced and there is every indication that a great fight will ensue before it finally draws to a close. For the position of league batsman each week brings in its train changes in the position of the leaders. Until well into the second month of the season, W. L. Martin maintained a good lead, chiefly through a series of not-out games. In fact, out of the first nine games for his club he had carried out his bat on seven occasions at the end of which period he had an average of 71.50 per inning. Then Mosley of the Mohairs made the pace, and by constant play kept nicely to the front. Saturday's cricket produced Rowley's score of 46 and W. T. Thorpe's 28 not out. The latter now leads with a round average of 35.00, Rowley being second, with 32.00 while Mosley now takes third with 31.50 and also has the distinction of being the second batter of the season to score over 300 runs. Murray of the Everetts got there first, but his rival Mosley now beats him for the highest aggregate by five runs. Five batters have now scored over 200 runs during the season. The following table gives the principal batters in the league thus far:

Batter and Club	Ings.	Total	Avg.
W. T. Thorpe, Everett	8	140	35.00

KEEPING TAB ON THE WORLD

Collapse of General Strike Again Defers Russian Revolution and Gives Czar Whip Hand—Pan-American Congress Adopts Arbitration Programme—Standard Oil Company Indicted For Taking Rebates, Pennsy For Giving Them—Chicago Bank Defalcation Ruins Thousands.

FOREIGN

Revolutionary Strike Ineffective.

The projected general strike of all industries throughout Russia, which was begun at St. Petersburg Aug. 4, failed to materialize. The railway and telegraph employees refused steadily to join in the movement, and as soon as this became known other trades refused to obey the order. It was deemed impracticable to carry out the movement at the present time.

The government opened the electoral campaign for the next duma, issuing instructions to the population as to the existing status and dwelling on the lawlessness of the former duma. The address intimates that candidates must talk less and think more while having the necessary respect for law and the authority of the czar.

Members of the central committee of the Social Democrats were arrested and sent to prison. The government, through Premier Stolypin, threatened a suspension of gold payment and the issuance of paper money. Social life among the wealthy people of the capital continued as if nothing unusual had happened.

All America For Arbitration.

A committee of the pan-American congress at Rio de Janeiro presented a resolution urging all countries there represented to send delegates to The Hague peace conference instructed to make every effort for the adoption of a general arbitration convention. The report of this committee was adopted by acclamation.

The committee appointed by the last pan-American conference, which was held in Mexico in 1902, reported that the proposed intercontinental railway extending from New York to Buenos Ayres, a distance of 10,400 miles, had been found to be entirely feasible.

This was based largely on the investigations made by Charles M. Pepper, who as a special commissioner went over the South American surveys. The committee finds that the cost would be $32,000 a mile, but that an expenditure of $185,000,000 would insure the completion of all the unconstructed links. This is thought to be not beyond the resources of the dozen republics interested.

Secretary Root had left Rio by rail, and with his family sailed on the cruiser Charleston from Santos, Brazil, to Montevideo, Uruguay.

Parliament Adjourns to Oct. 23.

On Aug. 4, while the house of commons was in the midst of its discussion of the bill to relieve trades unions of responsibility for their corporate acts, a motion to adjourn prevailed, the date of reconvening being Oct. 23. The session made a good record for the amount of legislation accomplished. On the very day that parliament adjourned an important defection to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Sir Wilfred Lawson resulted in a Conservative majority of 690, where in January the Liberals won by 593.

Colombia and Panama Make Peace.

Again the Roosevelt administration has scored a diplomatic triumph by acting as peacemaker for two South American republics—namely, Colombia and Panama—between which ill feeling has existed since the time Panama seceded. Through the good offices of our minister to Colombia, John Barrett, a treaty of friendship and commerce has just been concluded in which Colombia acknowledges the independence of Panama. At the same time a new treaty of peace and commerce has been negotiated between the United States and Colombia.

EXECUTIVE

Nonunion G. P. O. Man Out.

W. A. Miller, assistant foreman of the bindery in the government printing office at Washington, who was suspended three years ago by Palmer and reinstated after President Roosevelt had made his open shop ruling, notwithstanding that he had been suspended from the union, has now been summarily dismissed by Public Printer Stillings, with the approval of the president. Miller was charged with insubordination.

A Government Art Gallery.

By virtue of a decision rendered by Judge Stafford of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, the Smithsonian institute is a national gallery of art as well as a scientific museum.

This decision resulted from a dispute over the disposition of the art collection of the late Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnson, a niece of President Buchanan. She left the collection to the Corcoran Art gallery until the government should establish a gallery. Judge Stafford now holds that the Smithsonian may receive the collection, as it was founded in the interest of art as well as science.

Scope of the Eight Hour Law.

The opinion was rendered by the department of justice that the law limiting to eight the hours of labor on public work does not apply to vessels under construction in private shipyards or to supplies contracted for by the quartermaster general. This is based on the theory that such industries are not properly speaking, public works.

Jap Seal Poachers Killed.

Solicitor Sims of the department of commerce and labor, who is in Alaska to enforce the new fisheries law, reports that five Japanese fishermen were killed and twelve captured by Americans for poaching on the seal fisheries of the Aleutian group.

Lieutenancies For Civilians.

Secretary of War Taft has decided that more than half of the remaining vacancies for second lieutenant in the army shall go to civilians. This is causing much protest from the enlisted aspirants and from the officers themselves.

LEGAL-CRIMINAL

End of Hartje Divorce Trial.

The divorce trial of Augustus Hartje, the wealthy Pittsburger who sought release from his wife, Mary Scott Hartje, by presenting evidence to prove improper relations with her coachman, Tom Madine, and also with a former negro coachman, was brought to a close last week with the summing up of both sides. Attorney Freeman, for Mrs. Hartje, unhesitatingly referred to the libellant as the forger of the alleged love letters from his wife to Madine and as the principal in a conspiracy to blacken his wife's name. Judge Frazier said that his decision would not be rendered until some time in the fall.

Bank Teller Wray Caught.

Clinton B. Wray, the defaulting teller of the Union Trust company of Pittsburgh, who, with Bookkeeper Hixton, robbed that bank of anywhere from $125,000 to $300,000, was arrested by detectives at Toronto, Canada. He said he had gambled the money on the stock market. He was willing to return and stand trial without extradition proceedings. President McElowney gave out a statement saying that Hixton had made a confession to the joint embezzlement of $125,000 with Wray.

Philadelphia Icemen Indicted.

The grand jury at Philadelphia has indicted fourteen members of the Ice Exchange on the charge of conspiring to increase the price of ice. The trial was fixed for Sept. 5.

Mob Lynchs Three Negroes.

At Salisbury, N. C., a mob overpowered the sheriff and jailer and lynched three negroes charged with the murder of the Lyeerly family six weeks ago. The militia company was called out, but was powerless, without authority from the governor, to shoot.

Two men, George Hall and George Gentle, were put on trial for alleged participation in the lynching, while three companies of the state militia by direction of Governor Glenn thwarted any attempt of the mob to rescue the accused men. Ball was quickly convicted and sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment.

Oil Trust Now Indicted.

Within four hours after the federal grand jury at Chicago began hearing testimony presented by the government an indictment was returned against the Standard Oil company in nineteen counts, alleging the receipt of rebates from the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway. No accusation was made against any individual nor any charges against the Lake Shore or its officials.

Indictments were also returned against the oil trust by the federal grand jury at Jamestown, N. Y., and against the Pennsylvania railroad for rebating, penalties for which on conviction would be $1,400,000.

POLITICAL

Illinois Returns Cullom.

The primary elections in Illinois under the new law for the first time in the history of the state were held on the same day for all parties, and voters could express preferences for United States senator and instruct the nomination of other candidates from congressman down to sheriff. The Democrats had no candidate for senator, the contest being between two Republicans, Senator Cullom and ex-Governor Yates. Cullom had a big majority, and the legislature will be morally bound to re-elect him. Different colored ballots were provided for the voters of each party and all were compelled to go on record as to their politics.

Bryan Against Taft in 1908.

Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court in a St. Louis interview said that the next presidential election would be fought with Taft representing the Republicans and Bryan the Democrats.

He paid high compliments to the virtues of both men. He thought that Bryan and Roosevelt had many qualities in common, both being earnest and fearless and having the interests of the country at heart. Taft, he said, was not so impulsive or decisive as the president and would have less friction.

Iowa Democrats Name Porter.

The Iowa Democratic convention at Waterloo put up a full ticket headed by Claude R. Porter for governor. The convention endorsed Bryan for president and adopted a platform favoring tariff for revenue only, direct election of senators and destruction of trusts.

Prohibitionists Reject Emery.

The executive committee of the Pennsylvania Prohibitionists again rejected Emery and nominated instead Homer L. Castle of Pittsburgh. Castle fiercely assailed Emery for his alleged secret connection with the Standard Oil company. He said he had documentary evidence to prove his charge.

Labor to Oppose Longworth.

The American Federation of Labor has decided to antagonize both of Cincinnati's congressmen for re-election—namely, N. P. Goebel and Nicholas Longworth, the president's son-in-law—because of alleged indifference or antagonism to labor legislation before the last congress.

Democrats Dollar Fund Now.

Chairman Griggs of the congressional committee is following the lead of the Republicans by beginning a dollar subscription plan for the raising of a campaign fund. It is to be advertised through the country Democratic press, and each paper will be asked to raise $20. The Republicans are now using the endless chain of letters to collect subscriptions.

SCIENTIFIC

Now Walking on the Water.

Two inventors are claiming attention of the scientific world just now in connection with a kind of aquatic shoes. Jose Antonio, a Mexican student at Cornell, gave a successful test of his device by walking a mile and a half on the surface of Cayuga lake. The shoes, which closely resemble small boats, are constructed of tin five feet three inches long, fourteen inches wide and nine and three-fourth inches deep. Each contains four separate air chambers, besides the compartment for the foot. The shoes are equipped with collapsible fans, which close as the wearer steps forward, and then open to prevent the shoe from slipping backward.

A somewhat similar footgear for water walking is described in the Technical World Magazine for August and credited to Lieutenant Arthur T. Sadler of the United States volunteer life saving crew at Charlesbank, Mass. Sadler claims to have made a two mile trip on his shoes. He says he got his idea from watching the way a duck uses its feet. His shoes are four feet eight inches long, nine inches wide, and eight and one-half inches deep, being the smallest that would carry his weight, 135 pounds.

Nixon's Novel Marine Engine.

A new double action, reversible gas marine engine has just passed a successful test at the shops of the Standard Motor and Construction company in Jersey City, in the presence of a number of naval officers and manufacturers. It is the first marine gas engine which runs at slow speed with a development of high power, at a fuel consumption of 7-10 pounds of horsepower per hour. The engine develops 300-horsepower, at 320 revolutions a minute, with a practical absence of vibration and without noise. The double action is obtained by using both sides of the piston surface, making one cylinder do the work of two. All the valves have a continuous circulation of cold water, automatically. Lewis Nixon is the owner of this engine.

Thomas' Latest Balloon Exploit.

Dr. Julian P. Thomas, the amateur balloon enthusiast, accompanied by Roy Knabenshue, the professional aeronaut, made a record flight in his balloon Nirvana, Aug. 6, starting from New York at night and landing at Brant Rock, Mass., 225 miles away, in fifteen hours and twenty minutes, not counting a stop of half an hour in Connecticut for breakfast. Dr. Thomas was here tested a new device for lowering and hoisting the guide rope. As he was sailing along 300 feet above ground he awakened the occupants of a farmhouse by shouting through a megaphone. As soon as the men hurried out they caught the end of the guide rope, tied it to a post, and by using the windlass attached to the rope were able to haul the airship down to the ground with ease. The balloon reached an altitude of 12,000 feet.

New Heat Accumulation Law.

Professor T. J. See of the Mare Island naval observatory has announced a new law of heat accumulation in an article for the Atlantic Monthly, by virtue of which he predicts that the future of the sun's activity will be three times as long as that of the past, thus overturning the prevailing astronomical theory. Calculations made by Professor See prove the existence of a law applying to the life of every sun and star, according to which the heat steadily increases while the body is gaseous and then slowly dies down by secular cooling when consolidation sets in and the light begins to wane.

Dr. J. P. Thomas. above ground he awakened the occupants of a farmhouse by shouting through a megaphone. As soon as the men hurried out they caught the end of the guide rope, tied it to a post, and by using the windlass attached to the rope were able to haul the airship down to the ground with ease. The balloon reached an altitude of 12,000 feet.

THE FEMINE POINT OF VIEW.

The Willoughbys had said good-bye to Mrs. Kent. Then Mr. Willoughby spoke thoughtfully:

"It was pleasant of her to say about wishing she could see more of people like us, who are interested in real things, instead of the foolish round of gaiety that takes up so much of her time and gives her so little satisfaction, wasn't it?"

His wife stole a sideways glance at his gratified face and a satirical smile crossed her own countenance.

"Very pleasant, George," she said clearly. "But what I knew she meant, and what she knew that I knew she meant, was that my walking skirt is an inch too long and my sleeves are old style, and your coat, poor dear, is beginning to look shiny in the back."

"Why—what—how—" began Mr. Willoughby helplessly; then he shook his head and gave it up.—Exchange Husband—Well, I hear old Goldman is dead, and leaves a quarter of a million. Wouldn't you like to be his widow?"

Wife—No, dear. Nothing could possibly delight me more than just to be yours.

Our boys' pant cloth remnants are not the ordinary cotton and shoddy mixtures. They are the finest worsted fancies and all wool men's wear serge. Farr's Remnant store, 38 Appleton street, Lawrence.

A Marked Compliment.

The action of the County Commissioners in making Andover a representative district by itself is a distinct compliment not only to the town but to Speaker Cole.

While there is no doubt but that the commissioners were influenced somewhat by the peculiar distinction that the town now has in bringing to the county for the first time in 52 years the office of speaker, their action in making more single districts than now exist is along the line followed by all of the County Commissioners in the state.

For ten years the town will send its own representative to the legislature with no question as to town or rotation. The benefit to the town and to the state from such an opportunity cannot be overestimated. It places Andover on a par with such centers as Brookline, Newton and Somerville, and assures to her an influence equal to the influence exercised by those districts where long service is the rule.

The personal side of the compliment cannot be passed over without a word of appreciation. The present representative has received so many assurances of support from all over the old district there was no doubt of his hearty re-election had the lines continued the same. But his special delight in the service he has been able to render thus far, has been its association with the town of Andover. His interests for a life time have been Andover's interests and what honors have come to him have been Andover's honors. For that reason the constituency of Andover alone is a compliment that means much to the writer.

No man can foretell the future in politics, but if the usual term of two to four years as speaker shall lead to still higher honors, as so many friends all over the state have so often suggested, the honor will ever belong to the town of Andover, "the finest constituency in Massachusetts."

Misrepresentation a Mistake.

In the very strenuous campaign for the republican congressional nomination that is being waged in this district, there are some statements being circulated that are not very creditable to those who are spreading them.

That men are divided in their preferences is not at all surprising, but it certainly cannot be out of place for the Townsman to suggest to Andover voters, that they are being seriously misled in some of the argument that is being made against one of the candidates. The best possible advice for our Andover friends is to go slow in lining themselves on issues that may prove false a little later. It is a pretty good time for men who have no personal acquaintance with the real merits of the two aspirants, to sit tight and look both of them up a little.

Editorial Cinders.

It is good to see the grandson of one of the finest mechanics Andover ever had, Mr. John Dove one of the founders of the Smith and Dove Co., entering upon a business career that is associated with machinery. The purchase of a long established machine shop in Lawrence by Mr. Percival Dove makes a new Lawrence business man out of an Andover resident. May success attend

The election of a new librarian at the Memorial Hall library relieves Mr. Holt from the stern confinement which has for so many years marked his faithful service in that institution. The trustees will continue him as the custodian of the building, the new librarian taking up the technical work of book circulation along lines which have so radically changed during the past decade. We trust that Mr. Holt's long and honorable service for the town has many years yet to be added to it.

An interview with the officials of the B. & M. brings out the statement that "Instructions have been given to begin at once on the plans and contracts, and we hope to get the work practically completed this fall." The Townsman hopes to give a description and cut of the proposed new station in its next issue.

The sale of their street railway properties by the N. Y. N. H. & H. railroad, is the best possible answer to the agitation against street railway mergers as embodied in the bill introduced in the last legislature by Speaker Cole. It means that it will be sometime before the competition of street railways is destroyed in Massachusetts.

A NEW LIBRARIAN

Trustees of Memorial Hall Library Choose a New Librarian

At a recent meeting of the trustees of the Memorial Hall Library, Miss Edna A. Brown of Galveston, Texas, was chosen librarian.

Miss Brown is a resident of Providence, R. I., graduating from the New York State Library school in the class of 1898, receiving both its diploma and honorary degree. After graduating she reorganized the Barrington (R. I.) and East Providence Public Libraries, then worked with Mr. Foster for 2 years at the Providence Public Library as assistant. Having an unusually good opportunity to travel in Europe for 2 years she resigned her position at Providence, and on her return from abroad has spent 2 years at the Rosenberg Library, Galveston, Texas, helping to organize this newly opened library.

Edna A. Brown

Miss Brown comes to Andover very warmly recommended by Mr. Weir of the New York State Library school; by Mr. Wm. E. Foster of the Providence Library; and by Mr. Frank C. Patten, librarian of the Rosenberg Library.

She assumes her duties as librarian of the Memorial Hall Library the first of September.

Mr. Holt will continue as custodian of the building.

Important Session of the John Bean Association

The tenth annual gathering of the descendants of John Bean, who settled in Exeter, N. H., about 1660, will be held in Lawrence, Mass., September 18, at the Franklin House. A large attendance is expected because of the great interest of the family in the recent discoveries in regard to its first American progenitor, to be reported by the Genealogical Committee.

The meeting will begin at 10 a. m., and a short recess will be taken about 11.30 when a light lunch will be served. The regular hotel dinner will be served at 2 p. m. in the hotel dining room which will be reserved for the association.

The customary informal reception by local members to those arriving the previous evening will be held in the parlors of the Franklin House which will be official headquarters.

Letter to William C. Crowley.
Andover, Mass.

Dear Sir: How did you get your business? We'll tell you how we got ours. You sell shoes, we make paint; perhaps we can do a good turn to ourselves, you and we, by swapping experiences.

We began 152 years ago in a little shop a few minutes walk from where we are now; a great many things have happened, we don't remember them all. We made as good paint as we could and learned to make better. We are the oldest now; we don't know whether we had any teacher or not; it's so long ago; if we had, he's gone and forgotten. We should have been forgotten, if we hadn't made good paint and friends.

You buy your shoes; you have an advantage in that; if you make a mistake, you can stop it quick; if you make a hit, you can push it quick. We've had to go slow; it's hard to pick-out one's own mistakes, and nothing but fun to correct the mistakes of others.

You know where to go for leather that keeps its shape, feels good, looks new, and wears a long time. What a comfort it is to be comfortable from making one's customers comfortable!

We also have a unique advantage—unique, you know, means that nobody else has anything like it. We make a strong paint that takes less gallons, saves half the cost of painting your house, and it's like that leather of yours for wear. It is all paint and the strongest of paint. Paint is usually adulterated and weak.

We're very old, but we make young paint! One gallon is better than two, if it has the stuff in it.

Yours truly

Property Destroyed by Fire.

One of the hottest and most difficult fires which the local fire department has had to face for a long time occurred about three o'clock on Tuesday afternoon when a shed owned by Michael Stack on Pearson street was entirely destroyed, together with several teams which the owner had stored in it.

The blaze was discovered by a neighbor and at that time the fire had gained great headway. An alarm was pulled in from box 56, situated in Abbott Village centre and in a short time the department was on the scene. In the meantime many neighbors were assisting Mrs. Stack to remove the household goods as the fire, fanned by a strong north west wind, threatened the house with destruction. As it was the roof caught in several places, but by prompt work of the firemen, who connected three lines of hose from nearby hydrants the flames were soon extinguished. Sparks flew thickly across Pearson street and a number of houses on the south side started but great care was taken by the firemen, and no damage resulted from this cause.

The building in which the fire was confined was burning briskly when the water was turned on it and the heat was almost unbearable. Two streams were played onto the burning timbers and in about an hour the entire fire was extinguished. A shed which stood nearby filled with hay was badly damaged by the fire and the hay was spoiled. The roof of the barn owned by Daniel Donovan caught in a few places but no damage resulted.

The loss which amounts to about $500 is mostly for wagons and tools which were stored in the burned building. There was no insurance on the property.

Ninety third Birthday Celebrated.

Mrs. J. H. Merrill of 17 Salem street celebrated her ninety third birthday on Friday, Aug. 10th.

Her four children were present James G. Pres of Fisk University, Wm. F. Ex. Vice Pres. of N. Y. N. H. and H. R. R., Mrs. J. D. Wilson, wife of the Dean of R. E. Seminary, Phila., Penn., and Lucia G. who is her mother's home keeper.

One representative of the third generation W. F. Merrill of Boston and two of the fourth generation Frederick T. Merrill and Griswold Boynton were also in attendance. Miss Mary G. Perley who has for years been a member of the family and Miss Clara R. Boynton were also present.

A large number of friends called upon the nonagenarian, bringing with them tokens of their appreciation of a life which is remarkable alike for its length and value.

ABBOTT VILLAGE.

Mrs. William McDermitt is confined to her home on Cuba street by typhoid fever.

Miss Steele of Jamaica Plain spent Sunday with John McDonald of Essex street.

Alfred McDonald of Essex street has returned home after a week's vacation in Webster.

Alexander Petrie of Essex street has returned home from the Lawrence General hospital.

A meeting of the Cricket club was held in Abbott Village hall, Monday night.

William McKenzie and John Gordon of Essex street are on a week's holiday at Revere beach.

Miss Mary McGee of New York, N. Y. is spending a vacation at her father's, James McGee, Lincoln street.

Edward Andersen of Higgins' Court is still confined to the Lawrence General hospital but is rapidly recovering.

Daniel Murphy of Cutler Road has returned this week from a month's stay at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Moorlock of Winchenden.

Mrs. George Buss and family of Shaw-shen road are spending a vacation at the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. James Duffy of Central Falls, R. I.

John Murray of Lexington spent a few days and Jennie Light of Brighton is spending a two week's vacation at the home of Thos. Dudley on Essex street.

Alexander Ross has left the local association football team and will play with the Lynn team during next season. His team defeated Everett last Saturday by a score of 9 to 3.

There was a small attendance at the cricket game on the local crescent last Saturday afternoon when Lawrence defeated Brockton by the score of 42 for 4 wickets to 40. A bad feature of the game was the wait of 45 minutes between the innings of the teams and unless this great fault is corrected in the future the games will be attended by fewer supporters. As it was many of those present left the field during the wait.

A pleasant surprise was tendered Alexander McKenzie at his home on Red Spring Road last Saturday evening when a number of his friends gathered and presented him with a fine bed lounge. The presentation speech was made by David Bailey who spoke entertainingly, referring to the good will which grew out of such gatherings. James Ramsey rendered "McKenzie's Gathering" on the bag pipes which greatly pleased the party. Songs were rendered and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Ice cream and other refreshments were served. It was one of the most enjoyable gatherings which has been held in the Village for some time.

COUNTY REPRESENTATIVES

How Essex County Will Be Divided the Next Ten Years.

The County Commissioners made their final arrangement of the Representative districts for Essex County at their meeting today. Following the general tendency throughout the commonwealth, the Commissioners have made as many single districts as possible with due regard to full representation for the important centres in the county. Thus it will be seen that Haverhill and its immediate suburbs is the first centre with 13,788 voters has five representatives. Lawrence and its immediate suburbs with 16,756 voters has six representatives. Lynn and its suburbs with 22,770 voters has eight representatives. Salem and suburbs with 10,537 voters has four representatives. The other smaller centres are cared for in a similar manner so that a most equitable division of the county has been secured.

Andover is also made a single district by itself which is a marked compliment not only to Speaker Cole but to the town itself. The Commissioners appear to have made an excellent job of their very difficult task.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

Remove warts by rubbing several times with onion dipped in salt. Buttermilk will take the soreness from a bruise and will often prevent discoloration. When the gums are tender and bleeding, the mouth should be rinsed with warm water to which hystidine has been added. Grape fruit is said to have, in smaller degree, qualities similar to those of quinine and will allay inflammation and break up malarial disorders if taken in time. Never neglect a sore throat. A good gargle can be made by mixing in equal quantities a teaspoonful of salt and carbonate of soda, and dissolving these in half a tumbler of cold water. A splendid laxative sirup may be made as follows: Put a half pound of raisins, prunes and figs to soak in three pints of cold water. Bottle the sirup after two days and take a tablespoonful night and morning.

Letter from Abroad.

July 29, 1906.

Editor of the Andover Townsman:

Dear Sir:—I beg leave to ask for a space in your paper, in which to have printed a short account of my tour of Europe.

We had a very pleasant sea voyage, the weather was perfect and we all regretted the time to land. We arrived in Liverpool, July 13th, and went directly to Warwick, where we visited Warwick Castle. From Warwick we went to Stratford on Avon and paid a visit to the birthplace of Shakespeare. Most of the building remains just as it was when the poet was alive, with the exception of the Museum which has been collected since his death. Holy Trinity church where the poet was baptized, married and buried was of special interest as the most beautiful widow in the church was given by American tourists as a memorial to Shakespeare.

Inside the altar rail, in front of the altar, are the graves of Shakespeare, his wife and his daughter Susanna. On the slab over the poet's grave is the well known verse, written by the poet long before his death.

"Good Friend for Jesus' Sake Forbear,
 To Dig the Dust Enclosed Here,
 Blessed be the Man, who Spares the Stones,
 And cursed be he, who Moves my Bones."

The home of Anne Hathaway must not be forgotten. The building is made of stone and cement and has a thatched roof. Over the roof is a wire net to protect the thatch from falling off. Only three or four rooms are preserved for the public as the rest of the house is occupied by the keeper and his family.

On our drive to the station we passed the Shakespeare memorial, an opera house where the poet's plays are dramatized every year. We also passed the birthplace of John Harvard's father and the home of Marie Corelli, the novelist.

Our ride from Warwick to London took nearly four hours. We rode by large farm lands where men and women were at work in the fields and saw hundreds of sheep grazing in the pastures. The houses of the peasants are small, low buildings, very neat and nearly all built alike. In front of each house are dainty flower beds.

We arrived in London after seven and went directly to our hotel. Sundays we have to ourselves so we started the day by attending mass at Westminster Cathedral. This building has lately been erected and is not completed inside. The interior of the church is to be finished in marble. After lunch we took our first ride in an English Omnibus, to Brompton Oratory and heard the choir, which is considered the best in England.

Monday we drove around London. We first went to the Tower of London and had all the things of historical interest pointed out to us. We saw the room where Elizabeth was sent a prisoner by her sister Mary, also the room where she visited when she went there as Queen of England. The block on which Lady Jane Grey was beheaded is in the Court yard outside the Tower. In one room in the Tower are kept the Crown jewels of the different sovereigns. The most beautiful was that worn by Queen Victoria at her coronation. It was enlarged and worn by King Edward when he was crowned King.

We passed by and visited several other places of interest. At eleven o'clock, every morning the soldiers on guard at Buckingham Palace, are relieved by other soldiers. We saw them change guard and then drove up Constitution Hill, where we waited at the entrance of Hyde Park for the arrival of the king. He drove by in an automobile accompanied by a servant and a chauffeur. As we drove through Hyde Park and Rotten Row we saw many aristocrats who were out riding for pleasure.

The Albert Memorial is erected in Hyde Park and is a beautiful monument.

WILLIAM F. TRULAN

The death of William F. Trulan, for over twenty years the proprietor of a candy and variety store in Abbott Village occurred last Saturday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock. He had been ill for three weeks with typhoid fever and although he fought hard against the disease it could not be overcome and he passed peacefully away in the presence of his closest relatives.

Mr. Trulan was born here 44 years ago and has made his home in this town since his birth. For many years he has been in poor health, but was able to attend to his duties in his store which has grown from a small one into a large and well stocked one. He first started in the house in which he lived in Baker's Lane and a few years later he moved into the basement of the house which he bought on Essex street. A few years passed and he found that he would have to procure larger quarters and he purchased the Xotus club building which he moved and which he occupied up to the time of his death.

About eight months ago the deceased married Miss Jessie Cuthill who survives. Besides his wife he leaves his mother, three sisters, Mrs. Fred Sutcliffe, Mrs. Elmer Davis and Mrs. Frank Valentine, and one brother, Richard Trulan. The funeral was held from his late home on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. F. R. Shipman of the South church. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends present to pay their last respects to the deceased and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. Interment was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

HANNAH B. SHEDD.

Mrs. Hannah B. Shedd, one of Andover's oldest residents, passed away at the home of Mrs. Caroline A. Shattuck at the corner of Main and Morton streets on Tuesday at the age of 82 years. She had been a resident of the Osgood district for many years and was well known by the older residents of the town.

The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon and interment was in Tewksbury.

MRS. ISABELLA BOWMAN.

Mrs. Isabella Bowman, a well known and respected resident of Cogswell's Hill, Abbott Village, passed away on Thursday morning after a long and painful illness at the age of 76 years.

Mrs. Bowman was born in Scotland and when quite young came to America, settling in Andover. She was a member of the Free church where she worshipped faithfully until failing health compelled her to cease. She was loved and respected by a large circle of friends who will miss her.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. David Scott of Lawrence and Miss Jennie Bowman, who has always made her home with her mother and two sons Charles of the blacksmith firm of Anderson & Bowman and William, a plumber.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock, the services to be conducted at the late home by Rev. F. A. Wilson.

Bank Failure Ruins Thousands.
The Milwaukee Avenue State bank of Chicago was closed by the bank examiner Aug. 6, when it became known that the institution had been systematically looted by its chief officers over a period of years and that their defalcation would exceed $1,000,000. The bank had 22,000 depositors, whose deposits amounted to $4,200,000 and most of whom are wage earning people. Scenes of great excitement and anguish were witnessed among the crowd of ruined men and women who quickly gathered in front of the closed doors. One man, J. G. Visser, an officer of the Royal league, who had the funds of his organization on deposit, dropped dead when he heard the news.

Paul O. Stensland, a grocer, who had lost all his savings, committed suicide. A warrant for embezzlement was issued against Henry W. Hering, the cashier, and Paul O. Stensland, the president, both of whom were missing. Stensland has been for years a prominent figure in business and social circles, and when last heard from was at St. Paul, ostensibly on a vacation. It is said that the officers borrowed money on worthless notes, as did the Rothschilds gang in looting the Federal bank of New York. Stensland is the son of a poor Norwegian farmer and was a sailor in his youth. After founding the bank he became identified with many large interests.

Cashier Hering was arrested in Chicago and made a confession to the police, telling how Stensland got away with more than $1,000,000. Further forgeries were unearthed which would largely increase the defalcation.

Booming Jamestown Exposition.
Special Commissioner A. E. Post, for the division of exhibits of the Jamestown exposition, has begun a tour of northern cities to point out the advantage of taking space. He argues that it is a great opportunity for northern industries to be exploited before southern eyes. The exhibits will be grouped in various buildings instead of being scattered indiscriminately.

New Coal Holding Company.
A newly incorporated holding company, to be known as the Beech Creek and Eastern Coal company, capitalized at $8,000,000, has taken over the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke company, the alliance of which with the New York Central was recently investigated by the Interstate commerce commission.

$25,000 Fee For Seven Days.
Dr. Frank Billins, the Chicago physician who went to New York last January in response to a summons from Marshall Field and who was in charge of the millionaire merchant's case during the last seven days of his life, has sent to the Field estate a bill for $25,000, which is believed to be the largest fee ever charged in this country where an operation was not performed.

Imports of Diamonds.
The bureau of statistics of the department of commerce reports that the importation of diamonds in the fiscal year just ended amounted to $35,000,000 worth as against $27,000,000 for the preceding year and breaking all records. About $10,500,000 worth were uncut. There has been a steady increase in the diamond cutting industry of the country. During the year $5,000,000 worth of other precious stones were imported, making the total value of precious stone imports over $40,000,000 against $33,000,000 in 1905 and $31,000,000 in 1903.

INDUSTRIAL

Storage Battery Car Test.
A new electric storage battery passenger car, built for the Missouri and Kansas City Interurban railway, started last week from Philadelphia under its own power for Kansas City. This car, which was built by the Brill company of Philadelphia and the Strang Gas Electric of Hoboken, is driven by storage batteries fed by dynamos operated by a gas engine. It is designed to run an average speed of fifty-five miles an hour. The Chicago and Alton has ordered six of them for suburban traffic, and fifteen are to go to Brazil. The car measures fifty-two feet nine inches, being a combination smoker and passenger, with seating capacity for forty-two people. It is expected that by using this style of car the cost of railroad construction may be reduced $6,000 a mile and the operation in proportion.

Rush to Wyoming Gold Sands.
Since the report of the geological survey confirming the existence of valuable gold deposits in the black sands of the Douglas creek district in Wyoming a rush of miners and prospectors from all sections has begun. Chief Day of the survey says that some samples of the sand run as high as $7.90 per ton. This can be worked at an expense of 15 cents per ton, nothing being required but washing in water. The sand also has 30 per cent of magnetic iron and 54 per cent of hematite, and there are thousands of acres of it which can be worked as placers at very little cost.

Packing House Workers in White.
The packing houses of South Omaha, Neb., have furnished white duck suits for their entire force of employees, men and women, and ordered that none shall wear anything but white while at work. The suits are to be given free and a laundry connected with the packing houses will wash the clothing without cost. The outfit includes 7,000 suits for men and 3,000 for women. A clean suit will be given to each employee every day.

Utah Has New Copper Field.
An important discovery of copper was reported on the promontory which extends into the Great Salt lake from the north within sight of the Union Pacific passenger trains. An immense ledge of copper ore, fifteen to fifty feet in width, projects ten to fifteen feet above the ground for a distance of 300 feet. Bowlders from this ledge assay 40 per cent copper and the ledge averages 5 per cent.

Sapphire Mining in Montana.
What experts of the geological survey say is the greatest gem mine in the world is about to be worked in the Zego gulch, Montana. The vein is four miles long on the surface and extends to an unknown depth. The stones obtained are not large, but are of unusual brilliancy and of many shades of blue. They are sent to Amsterdam for cutting.

Illinois Central Going South.
The Illinois Central is about to begin construction of a new line through the rich pine and hardwood forests of Mississippi and Alabama, large tracts of which have recently been bought up by New York capitalists. The road will run from Jackson through the Pearl river valley to Columbus, Miss., and from there straight to Birmingham, Ala.

LABOR

French Farm Workers Win.
The organization of the agricultural laborers of France into a union has resulted in successful strikes throughout the country, the employers having granted the increase in wages demanded. The movement has lasted only a month and is now spreading to Belgium.

New York Food Supply Held Up.
The deck hands employed on tugs and freight car floats in New York harbor struck for better wages, and in consequence the big city's supply of milk, fruit and vegetables was seriously interfered with. The men ask $50 and $40 a month for day work and $60 and $65 for night. They ask for an increase on the ground that twelve hours a day is worth more than what they are now getting. The men are not members of any national labor organization.

Nevada Miners Avert Trouble.
The silver and gold miners of Nevada have signed a three years' wage schedule containing the increase asked for. The scale agreed to provides for a minimum of $4 for eight hours' work, with $5.50 for more expert classes of work.

Eight Hour Day For Southern Pacific.
Freight conductors and brakemen in the employ of the Southern Pacific railway system have prepared a new pay and working schedule which had been unanimously approved by the Order of Railway Conductors and which will be submitted to officials of the road with sixty days in which to consider it. The new arrangement provides for an eight hour work day to supersede the ten, twelve and thirteen hour days now in practice on the road. An advance in wages is also asked. This class of employees complain that conditions have been far worse for them since the San Francisco fire. Business, they say, has been better than ever before, but the men have been overworked without additional pay.

SOCIOLOGICAL

Roosevelts as Bird Defenders.
Speaking for Mrs. Roosevelt and himself, the president in a letter to William Dutcher, head of the National Association of Audubon Societies, expresses deep sympathy with the efforts to prevent the sale and use of white heron plumes, known in the millinery trade as aligrets. The president says that, if anything, Mrs. Roosevelt feels more strongly than he does in the matter. Recently Queen Alexandra of England has made a similar expression.

New York Factory Law Invalid.
Upon a test case the New York city court of special sessions has decided that the law to prohibit night work in factories by women and children is unconstitutional on the ground that it is class legislation. The defense of the law made by the attorney general was that the general welfare demanded that the progeny of factory women shall have healthy mothers to the end that states may have sturdy citizens, as summarized by the judge. But the court asked if the state looked only to the children of factory women for its future citizens, and why should the housewife, the woman clerk or she who toils not at all be exempt from interference for the reason. The justice said the law classed women with minors as wards of the state, a manifest injustice, as the whole trend of legislation had been to enlarge the rights of women to participate in property and contracts.

Reform Versus Comstockery.
Out of the vast mass of criticism directed against the recent raid of the New York Art Students' league by Anthony Comstock one word has been distinctly affirmative. Charles Henry Smith, Yale professor of American history, insists that true moral reform can come only by giving publicity to the very things that Comstock is trying to suppress. Professor Smith says that statues of the human figure should be placed in the public schools and that familiarity with the appearance of the healthy human body should be encouraged instead of being forbidden. Experience shows that a censorship is apt to change a normal desire for proper information into unhealthy curiosity. The testimony of the best physicians is cited showing that widespread physical and moral suffering now results from the policy of repression and suppression.

Child Labor Law Undermined.
The Philadelphia court of quarter sessions has decided that two sections of the child labor law, which provide that children from the age limit to sixteen must show certificates of their physical and mental qualifications, are unconstitutional, being contrary to the first section of the fourteenth amendment.

A Prison Innovation.
A rule at Sing Sing prison now requires that convicts be able to read and write before they are assigned to work in any of the shops. So some 400 inmates are to be put through a course of elementary education.

EDUCATIONAL

Indiana Schools Kissless.
The Indiana board of health has passed a resolution forbidding kissing in the public schools of the state as a sanitary precaution against the transmission of disease. The rule to be enforced by all teachers is, "Don't kiss any one on the mouth or allow any one to do so to you."

Ethics of School Music.
Acting on the advice of Professor Charles H. Thompson, supervisor of music, the Toledo board of education will restore the music course which was cut from the high school three years ago. Professor Thompson claims that the standard of student morality has fallen noticeably since music was omitted.

Amherst's Swimming Qualification.
Since the dedication of the new natatorium at Amherst the faculty has ruled that all students must qualify in swimming, this being the first instance of its kind. Investigation shows that not more than one-fourth of the students in American colleges can swim a stroke.

MISCELLANEOUS

Russell Sage's Successor.
A man who is recognized as a new power in the big financial game of Wall street is Charles W. Osborne, upon whom, as executor of the Russell Sage estate, will devolve the direction of the huge fortune now owned by Mrs. Sage. He is a quiet, unassuming man of sixty-seven, with white hair and mustache, who has the reputation of never having mislaid a security or made a blunder in judgment of collateral. He was in the service of Mr. Sage for twenty-five years. His fees will amount to one-third of a million.

Social Programme For the Church.
An address which has stirred the Protestant Episcopal church and is being widely quoted recently appeared in the New York Churchman from the pen of the Rev. W. O. P. Bliss, the well known Christian Socialist. He appeals for "a deep, radical, prophetic utterance by the church as a whole" on social questions. Referring to the various up to date forms of church activity, such as the open sanctuary, the gospel plus billiard table and bowling alley, the brotherhoods and guilds, and the bishop's saloons, he says that these things do not go to the bottom of the question. He declares that the United States today needs the sociology of Jesus Christ, not in vague words, but specific and to the point. He does not ask the church to indorse parties, but insists that the need is a formal recognition of the ethics and principles of true economic life.

He would have the church as a body, through a commission appointed by a general convention or in a letter from the house of bishops, show that the ethics of Jesus "do lead to and require not competition nor private combination, but co-operation, slowly and practically to be worked out in the life of all men." If the soul of the church could thus speak to the soul of the nation he thinks it would be worth infinitely more than a hundred vague resolutions about corruption and graft.

Secondly, Mr. Bliss would have a church commission, with co-operating members in each diocese, to disseminate a new ethical literature to show how the economic questions lie at the basis of every other.

In the third place the church must practice what she preaches, by democracy in organization, by fair wages to men employed on church work and by sacrifice in the personal life. Preaching, teaching, acting together must proceed from the spirit, and no amount of personal devotion will answer "if we implicitly indorse a system of life fundamentally wrong, demoralizing, un-Christian."

Wreck of Italian Liner.
The Siro, an Italian immigrant vessel from Genoa, ran on the rocks near Cape Palos, Spain, and quickly sank. The wildest panic prevailed among the passengers and crew in the effort to reach the boats or get life preservers. Several steamers and fishing boats went to the rescue and many were saved, but the dead numbered 385. The Spanish authorities are making a rigid investigation and the captain is charged with having deserted his ship.

METHUEN.

LOCAL MAN CHOSEN.

Henry H. Crompton of this town has been appointed a teacher in the Lowell Textile school. The trustees of the school have just installed machinery for the purpose of giving a practical knowledge of the French system of drawing. In some of the later and more progressive mills both the English and French systems are at work, and the aim of the school is to give such instruction as shall fit students to work by either or both systems.

A good choice has been made for the position of instructor in this department in the selection of Mr. Crompton. He has been in the service of the Arlington mills company for over 18 years, has had charge of a section for 15 years, is thoroughly acquainted with the systems named, and will teach both. He is a graduate of the school to which he goes as teacher and has also done considerable post-graduate work at the same institution. He is young, being only 32 years of age, and the fact that he has run a section since he was 18 shows that he possesses those qualities which indicate greater future success. Mr. Crompton severs his connection with the Arlington mills about the 20th of this month. Mr. Crompton is to be congratulated upon the confidence which the trustees of the school have reposed in him, as are the authorities of the institution upon securing one so well qualified to teach both from a practical and theoretical standpoint.

NEW INDUSTRY COMING TO TOWN

The Lawrence Knitting Company of which John Dodge is president and George A. Huntington is treasurer, has purchased the Tenney building near Central square and will remove their knitting factory to that place. The transfer of the property was consummated last night.

Quite a number of repairs and changes will be made upon the building and it will probably be a month or two before it will be ready for occupancy. The upper floor, which is being used as Pythian hall, will continue to be used by Kearsarge lodge, K. of P., but the remainder of the building will be used by the Knitting company.

The Lawrence Knitting company has been in existence for several years and has prospered greatly. The building at the corner of Broadway and Lowell street in Lawrence, which was occupied by the company was recently sold to a French society, necessitating a removal. The building which has been secured will furnish more commodious quarters.

The 86th annual exhibition of the Essex Agricultural Society which has some members in Methuen will be held in Peabody Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 18, 19 and 20. The show of live stock, poultry, carriages and agricultural implements will be in covered sheds on the society's grounds, and the other exhibits will be in the Town Hall. The admission fee heretofore has been 25 cents to all parts of the fair, but this year it will be 15 cents to either hall or grounds. The list of attractions has not yet been prepared by the committee. There will be no parade this year, but the usual riding and hurdle jumping will take place at noon Wednesday. The annual meeting takes place Thursday morning, and the annual dinner will be given at the South Church vestry at 12:30 Thursday afternoon. The secretary has issued a little pamphlet containing a list of the arrangements, premiums and committees.

A very interesting cricket game was played on the Barker street grounds, Saturday afternoon. The game was very interesting and well played. This is the first time this season that the Methuens have met with defeat. The Zions are very good contestants for the top of the league. The features of the game were the batting of Graydon for the Methuens and the bowling of Ankers who took five wickets for 17 runs for the losers. W. Croft, Sr., batted finely for the winners, also the bowling of Hindle was a feature, he taking 7 wickets for 1 runs. The Zions' umpire's decisions were very unsatisfactory and caused a lot of trouble between the teams. The score at the end of the game was 45 to 41 in favor of the Zions. Mr. Dunbar of Lowell, who will fight for congress, was present at the game and was very much interested in the same. The following players played against each other:

PRESIDENT WOOD TO COOPERATE WITH CITY.

Supt. of Street Paul Hanaagan had a conference with President William Wood of the American Woolen company, at the request of the latter to furnish the city with all the Portland cement it will take to prepare the granite block paving to prepare the Merrimack and South Union streets similar to that being laid on Lawrence street in front of the Bay State building at the present time.

The paving being done on Lawrence street is patterned after that on Elm street. The main street running through the business section of the city of Manchester, N. H. Supt. Hanaagan states that the paving will be found impervious to frost or any climatic change.

The appropriation made for the paving of the two streets in the vicinity of the Wood mill would simply cover the laying of granite blocks in sand such as are found on Essex street. President Wood is willing to supply the city with the cement that would be used in making a foundation for the blocks primarily and a surfacing after they are once laid. Without doubt the city will accept this generous offer.

The section to be paved on South Union street from the end of the Duck bridge to the foot of the bridge over the Boston and Maine tracks measures 2,642 square yards. It will also take 655 feet of edge stones to make the work here complete. On Merrimack street it will take 9,150 square yards of paving with 4,100 feet of edge stones. The appropriation for this work was $30,000.

Approximately it will take 350,000 granite blocks to complete the job. 75 blocks to the square yard.

THIEVES CAUSE POSTPONEMENT OF WEDDINGS.

From the London Daily Mail.
Several marriages may have to be postponed at Sunderland owing to the action of some thieves who yesterday broke into St. Barnab's church and attacked the safe. They wrested off the steel bar to which the bolts are clinched, but this only sent the bolts further into their sockets, and the thieves had to retire without obtaining any of the contents.

The safe, however, cannot be opened by the lawful owners, and as the marriage registers are inside many weddings which are due to take place will have to be postponed till the book can be got at.

LOCAL BOY GETS A "TECH" SCHOLARSHIP.

Herbert Robert Petzold, the Lawrence boy who has been awarded a full scholarship at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is a young man about 18 years old, who has won, through hard work and continued application, honors in various branches of study which he has undertaken, both in the Lawrence High school and during his first year in Boston.

Born in Lawrence, the son of Robert Petzold, an expert cabinet maker in the employ of Briggs and Allen, the boy early showed an aptitude for learning, and this was fostered to the extent that he graduated from the High school in 1905 with honors.

An eye affliction had meanwhile come upon the father, and compelled him to leave the wood working company and accept a position with the Boston & Maine railroad. With a family to support, it seemed impossible that the son could climb higher upon the ladder of learning, but an indomitable will, coupled with hard work during the summer months, permitted him to enter the Massachusetts Institute.

His first year was a success, so eminent a success that attention was attracted to his ability both in and out of the institution. The facts came to Hon. Louis S. Cow, when Senator from this district, now Postmaster of Lawrence, and he strongly recommended and advocated the award of a whole scholarship to the student, with what success has already been announced by the State Board of Education, and the whole German people of Lawrence are gratified at the honoring of the ability of one of their young men.

TAKING NO CHANCES.

An epileptic dropped in a fit on the streets of Boston not long ago and was taken to a hospital. Upon removing his coat there was found pinned to his waistcoat a slip of paper on which was written:

"This is to inform the house-surgeon that this is just a case of plain fit; not appendicitis. My appendix has already been removed twice.—Exchange."

EQUATORIAL FOOTBALL.

The football mania is still with us to the exclusion of almost all other games, with the exception of golf and a little tennis. In the football league contest there are nine teams playing.—Penning correspondence of the Straits Budget.

If you have not purchased your spring suit yet, you certainly ought to see our goods and prices. Our 50 inch panamas in all colors at 85 cents per yard, positively cannot be beaten. Farr's Remnant store, 38 Appleton street, Lawrence.

LAWRENCE

LAWRENCE AND METHUEN LODGES' OUTING AT CANOBIE

The annual outing of the Knights of Pythias of Lawrence and Methuen was held at Canobie lake park yesterday and was the most successful event of the kind ever undertaken by the local Knights. A committee, consisting of three members from each of the lodges represented, had charge of the affair and great credit is due them for the success of the outing.

The committee was as follows: William B. Gale lodge—James Forbes, W. Wallace King and John Painter.

Black Prince lodge—B. F. Robinson, Walter Hayes and Fred Bohannon. Quindaro lodge—William Swindell, M. W. Ludwig and U. G. Morse.

Kearsarge lodge—F. W. Allen, Charles E. Barker and Louis R. Thompson.

The committee on sports consisted of M. W. Ludwig, B. F. Robinson, U. G. Morse, James Forbes and Walter Hayes.

The chief event of the day was the ball game between the married and single men. The game was won by the married men by a score of 21 to 7 and was a wonderful exhibition of the national game. During the first part of the game the single men could do nothing with Robinson's curves, while the married men on errors and a few timely hits scored their 21 runs in the first three innings. In the second inning 17 men came to bat and 12 runs were scored. The benedicts would have scored more runs in this inning if they had not been "winded" with so much base running.

After the third inning the single men held their own and allowed but three hits with no scoring.

The features of the game were the better work of Robinson and Hey, Black's sensational catches in deep centre and base running and the agility of both teams in getting out of the way of a batted ball.

The line up of the teams follows:

MARRIED MEN	SINGLE MEN
Freeman, ss	Black, cf, 3b, c
Hey, c	Graichen, p
Robinson, p	Atkinson, 2b, rf
Carr, lf	Robinson, 2b, rf
Rav, 1b	Wilson, lf
Wilkinson, 3b	E. Smith, 2b
Emerson, rf	Houston, cf
Dolan, 2b	A. Smith, c
Gagne, cf	McLane, ss
	O'Donnel, 3b
	Brackett, rf

Officer Frank E. Lewis umpired the game with the indicator in one hand and his club in the other and his decisions were received without a murmur.

Innings. 1 2 3 4 5 6 7
Married men. 2 12 7 0 0 0 0—21
Single Men. 0 1 2 0 1 1 2—7

After the ball game the following list of sports were run off:

100 yards dash—Open, E. Smith first; A. Smith, second.

Prizes, umbrella and cuff buttons. Fat men's race—T. H. Fairbairn, first, prize, stein; B. F. Robinson, second, scarf pin.

3 legged race—Open, Smith Brothers, first; Hey and Waterhouse, second. Prizes, cuff buttons and box of stockings.

Boys' 100 yards dash—Russell Dolan, first; Howard Dolan, second. Prizes, pair of fan tail pigeons.

Ladies' 50 yard dash—Miss Henderson, first; Mrs. Perry, second.

Prizes, Fountain pen, first; Fancy soap box with cake of toilet soap, second.

Running hop-step and jump for Knights—Gagne, first; Waterhouse, second.

First prize, silk umbrella, donated by members of Black Prince lodge; second, cuff buttons.

Throwing base ball—Waterhouse, first; Downs, second.

Prize, signet ring donated by members of Kearsarge lodge.

150 yard run for members—L. H. Gagne, first; L. R. Thompson, second.

First prize, chain and K. of G. charm, donated by members of Quindaro lodge; second, silk suspenders.

Potato race for chancellor commanders, won by E. K. Morrison of W. B. Gale lodge. Prize, box of cigars.

Half mile run for Knights—Won by Waterhouse. Prize, parlor clock, donated by members of W. B. Gale lodge.

Blind fold race—Rolling a tub. Won by John H. Wilkinson. Prize, 50 cigars.

Besides the local Knights, present from Boston, Lowell and Haverhill and large delegations of Rathbone sisters accompanied the lodges with which they are affiliated.

The following grand lodge officers were guests of the day and held an informal reception at the ball park: Grand Chancellor, John P. Scott of Somerville; Grand Vice Chancellor, J. Ballantyne of Boston; Grand K. R. S. C. A. Cross of Lowell; Grand Outside Guard, Hon. A. N. Frost of Lawrence; Grand Chief of the Rathbone Sisters, Mrs. Harry D. Kelley of Methuen.

Special cars conveyed the party to the grove at 6.30 and 8 o'clock.

The prizes were all donated by members of the order and were well worth striving for.

The weather was perfect and nothing on the order to mar the pleasure of the most enjoyable outing ever held by the local Knights.

POISONED BY EATING ICE CREAM AT SALISBURY

NEWBURYPORT, Aug. 16.—Fully 50 persons were poisoned at Salisbury beach yesterday, and seven are in a serious condition.

So far as physicians who have treated the cases can determine, the cause of the trouble was ptomaine poisoning from unclean ice cream cans.

The persons most affected are Elizabeth Ferrier of Brookline, N. Y., John Murphy, Edward O'Connell, Michael Ring, Susie Thayer, all of Haverhill, Yvonne Adams of Manchester, N. H., and Miss Florence Seigel of Lawrence.

Miss Thayer's case is yielding to treatment and hopes are entertained that all may recover.

A large crowd was at the beach yesterday, the regular summer colony being augmented by thousands from Haverhill, as this was "Haverhill day," the annual outing of the grocers and provision dealers of that city. There was a number of ice cream peddlers along the beach who dispensed their refreshments in paper boxes from wagons. At least four of these peddlers were from this city and all were liberally patronized.

During the latter part of the afternoon persons who had eaten ice cream began falling upon the beach, their faces turning black and their eyes protruding. The crowd quickly became greatly excited and as new cases were constantly added to the number of the sufferers all sorts of fears were entertained.

Hurry calls were sent to Salisbury and this city for physicians and the response was quick. Automobiles and special electric being used. Among those who responded were Medical Examiner R. C. Hurd, Dr. Nason, Dr. Day and Dr. Brown of this city and Dr. Spaulding of Salisbury.

The sick ones had been taken into cottages and stores, the hotel Cushing and the Seaside house. The big hotel Cushing was transformed into a temporary hospital, the greater number of cases being treated there.

Before the arrival of physicians Dr. Louis E. Mannix, a fourth year medical student at Tufts, lead waiter at the hotel, and Miss Gertrude Connors of this city a nurse, who had had much experience, began work on the sick persons. Their efforts were well directed and the physicians gave them much credit. The physicians diagnosed the trouble as ptomaine poisoning.

It is regarded as certain that many who were suffering slightly with the poisoning left on early evening cars for Haverhill and elsewhere and it is feared that there may be cases where persons have fallen in unfrequented parts of the beach where help cannot reach them.

Those who took any considerable amount of the ice cream into their stomachs suffered the most acute agony and were unconscious for a time. Friends and relatives thronged the hotel and other places where the sick ones were cared for.

The authorities at once started an investigation of the cause of the poisoning. They were contained in the ice cream. Chief of Police Beckman of Salisbury and Henry C. Rich, chairman of the board of selectmen of that town, came to this city and procured samples of ice cream from John Canepa, Joe Mitchell, J. Liberatore, and Peter and Co., which were sealed in jars and will tomorrow be sent to the state authorities for analysis.

Pres. E. G. Moody of the Newburyport common council, who chanced to be at the beach, telephoned to Capt. Wells of the police here and directed that an investigation be started here. He called to mind the fact that only a few days ago seven Newburyport people were stricken with ptomaine poisoning, probably from ice cream.

Ex-Mayor O. J. Gurney of the board of health with William Thurston, agent of the board visited three of the dealers and requested them not to sell any more cream until the matter has been thoroughly investigated.

NATIONAL CIGAR STANDS

Not Only Lower Prices But Improved Quality Also

If the straight-line methods of the National Cigar Stands did no more than to show the reduction in prices which all their cigars do show, the triumph of the idea would be plain enough. But the plan has effected more than mere price-saving—it has given better average quality throughout, a better system of cigar keeping, an invariable uniformity of character—in short, a higher degree of safety to the customer.

The purchaser of a cigar of any one of the thirty exclusive National brands takes no chances whatever. He is definitely assured that he is getting

The Best Cigar Value the Money Has Ever Secured

Whatever the price he pays, it purchases better tobacco and more of it than the same price has ever bought before. He is getting the cigar nearer to the actual cost of production than cigars ever retailed before the National plan was evolved. He is getting a cigar that was made in million lots (thus ensuring uniformity), and which came direct from the producer, thus saving cost.

The drug stores which belong to the combination, display the National Cigar Stands' emblem in their windows, and sell from a new, scientific, condition-proving case the following brands, among others:

Black and White—Seed and Havana; as good as was ever bought at 8 for 25c.	5c
Cuba-Roma—Clear Havana; Cuban leaf, 8 for 25c. grade	5c
College Days—The best domestic cigar ever sold at	6 for 25c
Adad—A first-class domestic cigar, presenting superior workmanship	7 for 25c
Stirling Castle—Fine, clear Havana cigar, 10c. quality	6c
La Idalia—Choice clear Havana in many popular sizes at	3 for 25c and up

PROTHUR LAURENCE OBSERVES 96th BIRTHDAY.

Brother Laurence, for the past thirty-five years a familiar figure around St. Mary's church, Wednesday celebrated the 96th anniversary of his birth. He has the honor of being the oldest friar or lay brother in the United States and is still plodding along with the century mark only four years distant.

Born in Callen County, Kilkenny, Ireland, Brother Laurence came to America when a young man and received the Augustinian brotherhood September 29, 1848. For many years he worked both at the college and in the various Augustinian churches around Philadelphia until in 1881 the late Bishop Galberry, who was well known and revered in Lawrence transferred him to this city to St. Mary's church. The early residents of the city will remember him as a very busy man. He was sexton of the church, cemetery caretaker, in general all the work connected with the parochial property fell to him. But he always worked heartily and zealously and now in the aftermath of his holy life he looks forth upon a city strongly Catholic and his dear St. Mary's under the care of its pastor in a most flourishing condition. And he is satisfied and says that he is well repaid for his life of service.

A Telegram reporter called on Brother Laurence today and found him in excellent spirits. Not knowing that he was conversing with a newspaperman he talked freely and showed great keenness and a wonderful memory. He recalled old times and incidents long passed and when the reporter was leaving the venerable old man saw him to the door and bade him good-bye.

There was no formal celebration at St. Mary's in observance of the anniversary, because Brother Laurence has a faculty for disappearing when he suspects that there is going to be any noise in the form of celebrations. His wishes are always respected in this and so he spent the day quietly receiving the congratulations of his brothers in religion and also of his "old friends" who remember the time when he first came to Lawrence.

There was no further inquest Saturday on the death of Chauffeur Reginald B. Stafford, as was expected there would be. The last hearing was held July 14 and it was postponed until Aug. 11.

It will be remembered that on July 14 the inquest was started behind closed doors in North Andover by Judge Frye and District Attorney W. S. Peters. A number of witnesses were heard and adjournment was made until Saturday, when other witnesses were to be heard.

PLUCKY WOMAN SCARES BURGLAR AWAY

Early Sunday morning about 1.30 o'clock Mrs. Charles Kendall of 18 Albion street was awakened by hearing the rattling of a bureau drawer in her room. With a start she realized that a man was in the room and going through her belongings.

Immediately she jumped to a window and screamed for help. In a few moments one of the neighbors replied. Then she stopped screaming and the burglar, who had stood, apparently dazed, darted for the bedroom door, down the stairs and finally out of the rear door.

One of the neighbors soon reached the house and Mrs. Kendall went down stairs and let him in. Together they went through the house. They found that all the drawers in tables and closets down stairs had been gone through but as all the valuables had been locked up nothing was taken. For some reason, however, the burglar, for it afterwards developed that there were two, had neglected the silverware in the pantry.

Burned matches were found strewn all over the floor which would indicate that the men were amateurs. Investigation of the work done in the bedroom showed that a commotion had been ransacked. A box on the bureau had been taken but the drawers were locked and were not interfered with. The box contained a fine opal ring which with a dollar bill was all that was obtained.

The rear door was found open and also a window in the kitchen. It was evident that entrance was obtained through the window and that the door was opened to be ready for quick egress.

Several of the neighbors were soon up in the rear of the Kendall house on Jackson street saw one of the men go through his yard on the run. He called to him to stop or he would fire although he was not armed. The man kept on and went down Jackson street. The servant of Mrs. Kendall locked her door when she heard the screams of her mistress. She said she saw one jump through the window in the kitchen. She described him as short and dressed in a grey suit and slouch hat. He ran through the yard in the direction of Kendrick street. Later a man in the same description was seen by others of the neighbors as they were hurrying toward the Kendall house. He was asked what the matter was and replied that he heard some one scream but did not know what the matter was.

The police were notified by one of the neighbors and Sergeant Spranger went to the scene. He investigated but no signs of the men were to be found.

"How's your wife?" "She's having constant trouble with her head."

"Can't the doctor help her?" "No—nobody but the milliner."

JOSEPH SHAW

Joseph Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Shaw of River St., was drowned last Friday forenoon at about 9.30 o'clock at Salisbury Beach, age 25 years, 11 months 3 days.

Joseph Shaw was born in 1880 in Batley, Yorkshire, England. He came to this country when 13 years of age, first residing in Ballardvale, where he graduated from school and served his apprenticeship in the wool shop of the Ballard Vale Mills. Later he worked in Lawrence, Gilbertville and Holyoke. Since last October he has been working in the Fitchburg Steam Engine Co. of Fitchburg. He took an active part in the First Baptist Church of that city at the time of his death, being Assistant Supt. of the Sunday School which numbered over 300 members. He was a member of Mt. Roulstone Lodge No. 98, I.O.O.F. of Fitchburg serving as R. S. S. and being one of its most popular members. Besides his parents he leaves one sister, Miss Elizabeth Shaw, one brother, John, and two half brothers, Samuel Ramson of Lawrence and Thomas Ramson of Batley, Yorkshire, England to mourn his loss. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at 3.00 o'clock at his parents' home on River St., and was conducted by Rev. A. H. Fuller of the Congregational Church, who eloquently spoke about his very exemplary and useful life, and paid a glowing tribute to his noble character which had been so forcibly impressed upon the community. The Odd Fellow burial service was used at the grave. The floral tributes were very numerous and beautiful and showed the high esteem he was held by all his relatives and friends. Among the many floral offerings from his family and friends were a beautiful floral emblem from his Odd Fellow Lodge of Fitchburg; a floral wreath from the Ballard Vale Y. P. S. C. ## AMUSEMENTS.

Circus Coming to Town.

The small boy and his sister have long been looking forward to circus day. Yes, and the older folks, too, doubtless have the day marked on the calendar, for isn't the great Thomas Hargreaves railroad show scheduled to exhibit in Andover next Monday afternoon and evening? The circus will come here on its own specially constructed cars, of which there will be two long trains. The advent of the circus will recall to mature minds the days of early youth. In retrospect we can see ourselves as little children getting up long before daylight to watch the circus come to town. Which shall we vividly remember the delightful impression the first circus made on us. It may have been a very small and unpretentious affair—even insignificant, when compared with the Hargreaves circus—but it will always linger in the memory.

Circus day is distinctly an American holiday. And, excepting Christmas, it is about the most enjoyable holiday in all the year. Everybody, age notwithstanding, is young on circus day and we will all be glad to welcome the circus next Monday.

Every sign seems to indicate that these all new and enormous shows will be given a royal welcome in this town.

The first important event of circus day will be the gorgeous, gigantic, free street parade. This will leave the Playstead promptly at 10 o'clock a. m. and traverse the principal thoroughfares of Andover. This pageant is said to be second to none and is worth traveling many miles to witness. It will be replete and resplendent with a profusion of such features as are customarily found in a large and well-regulated circus parade. Don't miss the mammoth free street display. The exhibition place will be the Playstead.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you; weep and you weep alone."

It is said that Jupiter laughed for seven days after he was born. If you want to experience a fellow feeling for Jupiter you would do well to go to the performance of the great Thomas Hargreaves railroad circus, which will exhibit in Andover next Monday afternoon and evening.

SENSATIONS AT WONDERLAND.

They are the order of the day and rule the hour at the new million-dollar electric city and amusement realm.

Every person who has visited Niagara Falls and the Gorge below them will doubtless feel an intense interest in one particular feature on the program of free attractions at Wonderland this week. That feature is James E. Hardy, who in 1896 walked a tight-rope across Niagara, which was rapidly from the Canadian side of the deep ravine to the cliff-top on the American side.

Hardy's feat at Wonderland every afternoon and evening, will be to walk a rope stretched from the tower on the picturesque, beautiful Orient building to one of the turrets on the Administration building.

Miss Loubet, the daring young French woman, will remain at Wonderland all this week, to repeat every afternoon and evening her startlingly reckless ride in automobile through a loop and across a death-threatening gap.

Another of Wonderland's thrillers, which just now commands particular attention, is to be found in the Indian Congress and Wild West. It is the bucking broncho act of Annie Shaffer, a young woman from Texas, who, by reason of her prowess in the riding and taming of wild horses, has achieved the title of "queen of the cowgirls". Her piece de resistance are the mounting and riding of "Sky Rocket", said to be the wildest, most restive and trick bucking broncho ever saddled and bridled on a western ranch.

One of the antique features arranged to mark the opening of "Cape Cod Folks" at the Boston Theatre, August 27, is a general invitation that has been extended by Liebler & Co., and the management of the Boston Theatre, to certain residents of Cape Cod itself. This invitation, couched in formal terms, bids the selectmen of the various towns and villages on Cape Cod to the opening of the play, and makes it clear that these officials shall attend as guests of the management.

The interest of the occasion should centre in the manner in which these estimable gentlemen will receive certain types they will be bound to recognize, for while the locale of the piece is in Hyannis, the characters have been drawn from as far north as Provincetown itself, and there is hardly a municipality on the Cape that has not been drawn upon for one or more of its characteristic types.

The play, which was placed in rehearsal in New York last Monday, is now under way, and as these rehearsals progress it exhibits more and more the remarkable quality, known in stage parlance as "atmosphere" upon which depends the success of a dramatic effort.

ment. It was erected by Queen Victoria and her people, to the memory of husband the Prince Consort. At the four corners of the memorial are statues representing the countries of Europe, Asia, Africa and America. America is represented by an Indian on a buffalo, with Liberty at its side.

Later on we visited the Tate and Wallace collections of paintings and orientals, also the British Museum where we saw paintings by the best artists from the various schools of art.

The last building which we visited in England was Westminster Abbey. We spent some time in the Poets' Corner where graves of the poets are. There are two busts there, one of Longfellow and the other of Lowell which made us feel at home.

In the Chapel of Edward the Confessor is the Coronation Chair. Close by is the altar where the monarchs are crowned. The chair is of wood and is very dilapidated, being cut into and carved by persons whose names appear on it.

Our allotted time in London was up Friday morning so we took the train for New Haven, and there took the steamer for Dieppe, France. We were very fortunate in having a smooth passage across the Channel. At Dieppe we took an express and arrived in Paris at seven o'clock. In many respects I consider Paris superior to London. There are more beautiful buildings, drives and boulevards. The public gardens are most artistically arranged and are very numerous. The people are more animated and have better style than the English. In physique and carriage the English soldiers are far superior to the French. They are larger men and take more pride in their personal appearance.

In Paris we visited the Louvre, a museum which is the largest and best collection of paintings in the world.

Close by the Trocadero Palace is the famous Eiffel Tower which is one thousand feet high. It took us just one hour to go to the top and down again in an elevator.

We visited the place de la Concorde, the Grand Palais and the Petit Palais which were erected for the exposition of 1889. They are now used as museums.

Napoleon's tomb is in the "Hotel des Invalides." It is of marble and is surrounded by the flags which his army captured in battle. On the door of the tomb are inscribed his words—"I desire that my bones shall rest on the bank of the Seine, in the midst of the French people whom I love so well."

It is indeed a fit resting place for the great Napoleon.

Tuesday morning we drove to Versailles which is twelve miles from Paris. We drove through Bois de Boulogne, the park of Paris, which covers 2,250 acres of land. On all sides are beautiful lakes and walks. We passed by the residence of the Count and Countess de Castellane and farther on we passed three villages where there are large automobile factories. In the distance, on the hill is the fort of Mt. Valerian. This fort was never captured during the Franco Prussian war but was forced to surrender because of lack of provisions and ammunition.

We reached the Grand Palais of the Trianon before 12 o'clock. The name Trianon, belonged to a small village that was formerly situated on this spot. This palace was built by Louis XIV, for his favorite Mme. de Maintenon. It was used by Louis XIV, XV and XVI. The last king who used it was Louis Philippe during the years 1830 and 1848.

The Marble Hall was used as a summer dining room, the windows were long and opened like doors. In 1859 the army of Napoleon went to Italy, to help drive out the Austrians, who were tyrannizing over the people of Italy.

In that year at Mantova, the Austrians were defeated and gave back northern Italy to the Italians. To commemorate this, the people of Milan, gave a beautiful piece of statuary to Empress Eugenie, as a thank offering for the work of the French army in Italy. One figure represents France, who has undone the fetters from the wrists of the other figure, that of Italy, who has allowed them to drop to the ground. This piece of statuary has a very prominent position in the Marble Hall.

The private apartments of Napoleon I, consisted of small rooms, plainly furnished and are the most unassuming rooms in the palace.

In 1846 when Queen Victoria visited France, chambers were prepared for her. She preferred however, to stay at the British Embassy in Paris, and the rooms in the palace were allowed to remain unchanged. The bedroom furniture dates from the time of Napoleon I, but has been carefully replenished at Lyons. The color of the room is gold and old rose.

In the stables or coach house are state carriages which date from the time of Napoleon I. The first carriage was built for Napoleon I. for his coronation at Notre Dame in 1804. It conveyed the

The carriage built for King Charles I in 1825 cost one million francs, weighs seven tons and takes eight horses to drag it.

The Petite Trianon Palace was built for Mme. du Barry, favorite of Louis XV. Afterwards King Louis XVI presented it to his wife, Marie Antoinette. In the bed chamber of Marie Antoinette, are paintings of the Queen, as a young girl at the court of Austria, also a pastel portrait of the little Dauphin, who died from cruel treatment received at the time of the Revolution.

After lunch we visited the Palace of Versailles, which is considered the grandest palace in the world. At the back entrance is the Fountain of Neptune which consists of twenty-seven fountains in all. When the fountains play a mass of water comes from every vase, making a perfect wall of water higher than the surrounding trees. We passed through a tunnel of trees and came to the back of the palace where beautiful gardens extend in every direction. The gardens have the same general appearance that they had in olden days. An artificial lake 11-4 miles long extends away to the back. It was on this lake that courtiers used to vie with each other, as to which should have the honor of rowing the barge containing the King and Queen.

The palace is 1-4 of a mile long and is made of hard sandstone. In 1680 King Louis gave orders for this palace to be commenced. Colbert, the prime minister had all accounts destroyed so that the nation would not know the cost of the palace. It is estimated that it cost one thousand million francs. The two wings of the palace were added by Louis XV.

We first visited the beautiful chapel built by Louis XV. The ceiling is the most beautiful part of the whole building. The painting in the center is that of the "Eternal Father in All His Glory". In the back of the chapel is the Royal Tribune of Kings and Queens, which they entered from their apartments on the same floor. There are galleries on both sides for use of noblemen and ladies who were visiting at the palace. The lower part of the church was used by persons who were allowed the honor of attending Holy Mass at the Palace. This chapel is used every morning at nine o'clock and is free to the public.

Each room in the apartment of Louis XIV received its name from the painting upon the ceiling. They are the Room of Hercules, the Room of Alexander, Saloon of Venus, which was used as a reception room where the Kings received courtiers. The Room of Apollo is one of the most beautiful in the palace. In the center of the painting on the ceiling Apollo is in the chariot of the sun. This room was used as the Throne Room.

In the bed chamber of Louis XIV was a barrier or fence in front of the bed. It was the custom in those days that only the King's valet could go behind that barrier. This was to prevent assassination. Outside this room there is a balcony on which Marie Antoinette and Louis XVI with their children, appeared before the mob. They were escorted to the balcony by Lafayette, then captain of the guards. It was then, that they promised to return to Paris and live at the Tuilleries, so that their expenses might be controlled. They returned to Paris for a short time and then tried to escape over the border. They were recognized by an innkeeper in one of the small towns and again returned to Paris, this time as prisoners. They were tried, convicted and guillotined at La Place de la Concorde in Paris.

We left the palace by the front entrance and drove back to Paris by the old Paris road.

As I have already taken up more space than I expected I will not write about my tour of Switzerland.

NOT THE JOB HE WANTED.

"So you are the applicant for the position as chauffeur?" asked the gentleman, looking up from his desk. "Yes, sir," replied the man who had just entered the room.

"Are you a union man?" "Yes, sir."

"Well, after you have worked on a machine for eight hours and the thing won't go, what do you do?" "O. well, sir, if you've got one of that kind of machine I don't want the job!"—Stray Stories.

"Do you recognize that form of verse I have just submitted?" asked the overbearing poet.

"Yes," answered the editor, wearily; "it is a triolet, with accent on the 'try'."—Washington Star.
